					Quite strong. My natural vagina lubrication always has quite a strong scent. Describe the smell...hmmm...well, today it's a little fishy, but usually there's just a "sweet and sour" tone to it. It really depends on what I've been eating, honestly. When I eat fish, I tend to smell a bit fishy down there. I had tuna salad earlier today. It smells best when I eat no fish, less meat and more fresh fruits and (most) vegetables. However, if I eat asparagus or things in the cabbage family, it tends to give it a sharper smell.
